OBJECTIONS AT ALL POINTS

Havemeyer's Counsel Contesting Every Inch of the Ground.

PROGRESS OF THE TRIAL

The Senate Document Containing the Report of the Sugar Trust Investigating Committee Ruled Out by the Court—Stenographer Penalties Reads From His Original Notes.

The proceedings in the Havemeyer case closed yesterday with the evidence of Senator Davis, the point under discussion being whether the question asked Mr. Havemeyer was from the investigating committee of the individual Senator proposing the interrogatory. It was shown that the investigating committee, two dissenting, had authorized the question which Mr. Havemeyer first asked them, and then declined to answer.

Accordingly it was endeavored by the prosecution this morning to introduce the official testimony before the committee.

The tactics of the defense showed up this morning, as yesterday, to be a continuous objection to all of the propositions, whether of law or fact, of the district attorney.

Mr. Davis resumed the evidence today by offering extracts from the journal of the Senate, showing the recusancy of Mr. Havemeyer. He also asked the court to consider the question of the admissibility of the report of testimony as developed by Senator Gray.

Mr. Johnson objected, on the ground that the defense intended to put in the whole of the journal at the proper time. He would object to extracts without certification. If the residue will be offered, he did not object.

Mr. Davis read the statute to show his right to introduce the extracts. The court sustained Mr. Davis, giving the defense the right to introduce at the proper time further relevant extracts.

Mr. Davis then read from the Senate journal the proceedings, showing that Havemeyer had refused to answer a "pertinent question," that the President of the Senate "issued his warrant to bring Havemeyer to the bar," and that he should be "kept in custody," etc.

The district attorney then attempted to introduce the report of testimony as developed in the case.

Mr. Johnson objected on the ground that the stenographer's notes were the proper primary evidence and that so far as the defense was concerned it had no admission of the truth of any or all of the printed evidence.

Mr. Baker, the assistant district attorney, was heard on the admissibility of this printed testimony. He drew a distinction between testimony in a private cause and that given in a public government document. He read cases showing that testimony taken before legislative bodies was admissible. He quoted an English case to prove that a government statute was admitted as testimony in a certain case of libel. Cases by the volume were cited to prove the contention of the government. Mr. Baker admitted that certain documents in which Havemeyer's question was asked could not be introduced as testimony.

Judge Bradley inquired if the government had offered a typewritten copy of the stenographer's notes would that be competent.

Mr. Baker answered that the typewritten copies in this case were not made over by the witnesses and corrected by the witnesses themselves.

Mr. Davis made the further statement that it was proposed to introduce the testimony on the general ground that it was contained in a public document, which was printed and distributed to the public. He said that the Senate investigating committee, Mr. Davis fortified his position by reading the decision in the case of Morris ex rel. State, in which it was held that such books as the one offered were admissible. This case held that the documents were competent to prove the facts of the case.

Mr. Davis also read the case of the King against Hope, in which the Court Gazette was held to be competent to prove certain facts of the case.

The Court—Certain living subjects? Mr. Davis—I believe so. Gilbert and Sullivan were not dead in those days.

Mr. Johnson desired to know if it was proposed to put the matter in "an evidence."

Mr. Davis answered affirmatively as to "matters relating to this case."

Mr. Johnson objected peremptorily. He did not believe in such a case being put over by the witnesses and corrected by the witnesses themselves.

ENGLAND TO THE POWERS

Thessaly Shall Not Remain Under the Rule of Abdul Hamid.

KAISER WILLIAM'S STAND

His Consent to the Identical Note Was Due Principally to Representations Made by the Czar to Berlin—Adhesion Greatly Relieved the Situation.

Athens, May 26.—It is announced here that England has issued an official declaration that she will abandon the concert of the powers if the Turks are allowed to remain in Thessaly until Greece has paid the indemnity demanded of her.

POWERS SATISFIED GERMANY.

KAISER ANXIOUS ON ACCOUNT OF GERMAN BONDHOLDERS.

Constantinople, May 26.—The withdrawal of Germany's objections to the collective note of the powers on the subject of the terms of peace between Turkey and Greece, was due to the representations which the powers, especially Russia, made to Berlin.

Germany, in addition to objecting to sign the note until Greece consented to abide by the terms agreed upon, objected to the principal of the indemnity being settled forthwith and on the basis of the present resources of Greece.

This attitude on the part of Germany is attributed to a desire to rearrange the Greek finances, in a manner giving better security to the German bondholders. The adhesion of Germany to the action of the powers in this respect has greatly relieved the situation.

THE STREET EXTENSION PLAN.

A Delegation of Prominent Citizens Waits Upon the Commissioners.

Ex-Senator J. R. Henderson, M. A. Balinger, ex-Gov. Keogh, and W. Riley Deobie were at the District building this morning and had an interview with Commissioners Black and Wigot, with reference to the action that the Commissioners will take in the prosecution of the street-extension plan, pursuant to the decision of the United States Supreme Court relative to the matter.

Commissioner Black explained to them that the official text of the Supreme Court decision relative to street extension had not yet been placed in the hands of the Commissioners, and that it could not be stated what the action of the board would be in the matter until after the receipt and consideration of the decision.

It is understood that the official text of the decision differs in many material points from the text as published in the press, and the Commissioners intend to learn the real text, word for word, before outlining their plans for the prosecution of the extension work.

The Commissioners are anxious to effect certain changes in that part of the decision as already published, relating to assessments, whereby a more equitable assessment system will be provided. It is their desire that a property-owner shall be assessed strictly in proportion to the benefit he derives from the extension plan, and that a man whose property is not benefited shall be exempt from unreasonable assessment.

FUNDS FOR THE PRINTER

Resolution Appropriating $225,000 Voted in the Senate Today.

Carriage of Food to India—Allegation of Indian Lands—Protest From Mr. Gallinger.

The chairman of the Senate, in his opening supplication this morning, invoked the Divine blessing upon Queen Victoria and prayed for a continuation of her long and commendable reign.

Senator Gallinger, in a brief address called forth by protests to his anti-vivisection bill, spoke strongly against what he termed the viciousness of filing memorials and protests after both sides had been heard by the committee, and after the findings had been published in full. The Senator explained the introduction of his bill at the last session against vivisection.

Hearings were accorded the opponents of the bill, but at the time when the committee favorably reported the measure those favorable to vivisection had filed protests, and had reviewed the committee's report. The Senator stated that in doing so the facts had been misstated in some instances. He introduced the bill again this session and again heavily opponents come forward with protests which they desire to be printed in the record. Reference was made to the protest filed yesterday and another offered by Senator Gray today.

Senator Gallinger thought it improper that these protests should be printed at Government expense.

A resolution offered yesterday by Senator Quay relating to the allotment of certain lands to the Choctaw, Chickasaw and Wichita tribes of Indians, and the payment to the tribes of a certain sum of money in dispute in the Court of Claims, provoked a small controversy started by Senator Pettigrew. He objected to the resolution, which, he said, had not been referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

Senator Jones, of Louisiana, secretary of the legation of the United States at Buenos Aires, Argentine Republic.

Charles Jordan Hart, of West Virginia, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Colombia.

John G. Thompson, of Illinois, to be Assistant Attorney General.

TALK ON THE AMENDMENTS.

At 2 o'clock today the tariff bill was laid before the Senate. No general debate was entered in the Senate, under the leadership of Mr. Aldrich proceeding at once to the consideration of the amendments. The date at which the bill is to go into effect was passed over.

Mr. White submitted a statement showing that some of the rates fixed in the bill were excessive. He stated that he would call attention to this in detail in the future.

Mr. White asked Mr. Aldrich if he could state how many amendments had been made by the committee.

Mr. Aldrich said he could not.

Mr. White wanted to know why the average ad valorem rate had not been carried out throughout the bill, and Mr. Aldrich replied that it was almost an impossibility to do this.

Request Made That the Garbage Crematory Nuisance Be Abated.

Owing to repeated complaints about the odor emanating from the garbage crematory, Health Officer Woodward has written a letter to the crematory company ordering them to abate the nuisance.

The contractors today addressed a letter to the Commissioners, stating that the site and plant of the crematory were selected by the Commissioners, and that the original plan was for 100 tons capacity. That Mr. Cyrus Borgner, contractor for the Smith people, has not completed his contract, and the present plant has a capacity of seventy tons, and that they want the Commissioners to make some decision with reference to the odors before they call upon Borgner to complete his contract.

The present plant was completed January 30 last. The Commissioners will probably act on the matter tomorrow.

Victorious Tailors Returning to Work in Great Numbers.

New York, May 26.—A big break has occurred in the opposition to the manufacturers have offered to the East Side tailors now on strike. Thirteen employers, several of them among the largest in the city, yielded today to the demands of the strikers, and as fast as the contractors they employ could sign the agreements, the men went back to work.

Nearly 800 tailors returned to their places before noon, and fully 500 more were expected to go back tomorrow during the afternoon. Some of these manufacturers called upon Meyer Schoenfeld, the leader of the strike, last night and signed the agreement, while others yielded this morning.

Every manufacturer who signed the agreement promised to advance the prices paid his contractors from 2 1/2 to 25 per cent, so that the contractors would in their turn be able to meet the advances demanded by the strikers.
